President's Message

March marks the beginning of our month for special recognition to the Junior ROTC Program. It also serves as the fruit of giving to the program and the many hours of labor for those serving on our Scholarship, Awards, and Annual Golf Tournament Committees. Thanks to All! I was privileged to be the presenter of MOAA Junior ROTC medal, service ribbon, and Certificate to Cadet 2 Lt. Kristen Larsen at Seminole High School AFJROTC Annual Military Ball. Eligibility includes good academic standing; high moral character; loyalty to unit, school, and country; and demonstrated exceptional potential for military leadership. One word describes the occasion.....AWESOME!

MOAA's 2010 Chapter Presidents' Symposium for the Southeast Region will be held in Jacksonville, FL. on September 16-18. This year's symposium, MOAA will be emphasizing chapter membership recruiting. Our membership chair will be invited along with the President to attend. Each of our members is requested to recruit at least one member this year.

A retired subordinate of the Vietnam era recently called and requested I prepare a statement on his behalf for upgrading his VA medical records to reflect current health conditions which may have been caused by being exposed to certain conditions. Individually, and for the sake of all members and especially survivors, I am reminding each to conduct your personal review and submit a statement of claim to your local VA office. The time to do it is NOW.

PROGRAM
JROTC CADET OF THE YEAR

We have a great program for you in April. This is the month we recognize the top three JROTC Cadets of the year. We have 26 high schools who have JROTC programs and they submit their top one or two cadets for consideration. Each Cadet of the Year will receive $3,000. In addition, each cadet will receive a plaque recognizing his or her achievement. The scholarship award money comes from those of you who have so generously contributed and $3,000 donated by Lockheed Martin Corporation. The cadets will be in their dress uniform and be accompanied by their parents and the high school JROTC Senior Instructor. I would like to give a special thanks to COL Bill Gates for all the time and effort he has put into this project.

Chaplain's Message

The Army Chaplain decided that a visual demonstration would add emphasis to his Chapel message. Before he began to preach he placed four worms into four separate jars. The first worm was put into a jar of alcohol. The second worm was put into a jar of cigarette smoke. The third worm was put into a jar of chocolate syrup. The fourth worm was put into a jar of good clean soil.

At the conclusion of the message, the Chaplain reported the following results: The first worm in alcohol – dead. The second worm in cigarette smoke – dead. The third worm in chocolate syrup – dead. The fourth worm in good clean soil – Alive!

So the Chaplain asked the troops assembled for worship – what can you learn from this demonstration? A Marine in back quickly raised his hand and said, “As long you as you drink, smoke and eat chocolate, you won't have worms, Sir.”

LEGISLATIVE INFORMATION
BY LTC ROBERT M. LEPAGE, USA, RET.

Skelton to Champion TRICARE Protection

House Armed Services Committee Chairman Ike Skelton (D-MO) says he will include a provision in the FY2011 Defense Authorization Bill to amend national health care reform legislation to explicitly state that TRICARE "meets all requirements for individual health insurance."

Committee staff members indicate this is a technical correction to make doubly sure TRICARE beneficiaries don't suffer any inadvertent penalties under the language of national health care reform legislation currently pending in the House.

According to staff, the new House language cites Medicare, TRICARE For Life, and VA care as meeting the requirements, but didn't explicitly include TRICARE.

Skelton tried to amend the bill to include TRICARE, but House rules governing reconciliation bills like the national health reform bill bar amendments that don't involve funding.

But the lack of funding issue means Skelton will be able to make the fix in the defense bill instead.

While it would be incongruous in the extreme to consider TRICARE as failing to meet any reasonable requirements for health insurance, the technical fix will make doubly sure TRICARE beneficiaries won't be subject to financial penalties applicable to people who don't obtain qualifying insurance.

It would also require that TRICARE make a change to allow continued coverage of non-dependent children until age 28 if they don't have qualifying employer-sponsored coverage. Details on how to accomplish that would have to be worked out in the defense bill if the national health reform legislation passes.

Personnel Chiefs: No Need for Pay Raise Plus-up

The service personnel chiefs told the House Armed Services Personnel Subcommittee this week that troops are "very satisfied" with their level of compensation when compared to the current, broader economy, and there's no need for Congress to plus up the 1.4% pay raise the Pentagon has proposed for 2011.

Each year since 1999, Congress has increased the military pay raise by at least one-half percent above private sector pay growth, in a protracted plan to restore full military pay comparability following repeated capping of military raises' below those of the average American throughout the 1980s and '90s.

The Pentagon-proposed 1.4% would be the smallest military pay raise in almost 50 years - even while the government is demanding more from our troops and families than it has in 50 years. MOAA believes that this modest plus-up for 2011 is a particularly important signal to those in uniform that the nation acknowledges the value of their truly extraordinary sacrifice.

In separate questioning, the witnesses expressed the Pentagon's support for expanding concurrent receipt to all medically retired personnel.
